HELLO

I am so glad you are here! My name is Lyndsey. I am a previous online educator, current homemaker and mother of three beautiful blessings, and hopefully a future inspiration to the young hearts and minds of children who desire to know, love, serve, and glorify God.

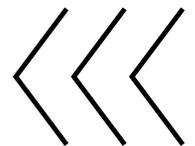

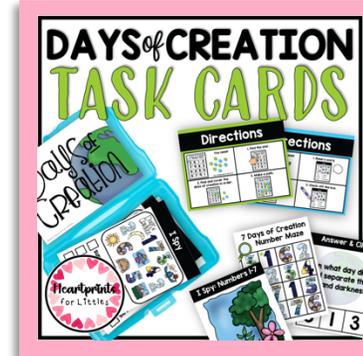

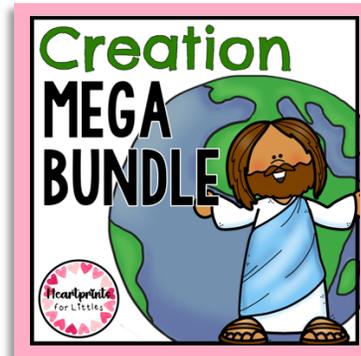

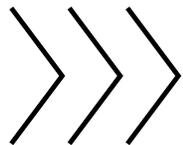

Heartprints for Littles was inspired by Deuteronomy 6:5-7. It has become my mission to create hands-on, age-appropriate "prints" that align with God's true Word, the Bible.

When I am not spending time with my family, I enjoy creating high quality digital resources for Christian schools, churches, and homeschool families. Jesus and children are near and dear to my heart, and there is nothing I love more than creating meaningful, faith-filled resources for little learners just like yours.
